

BEHAVIORAL SCIENCES

ASSOCIATE OF ARTS
62 CREDITS: ONLINE ONLY

Behavioral Sciences provides an in-depth understanding of human behavior and the underlying psychological, social, and biological mechanisms that drive it. This program integrates concepts from psychology, sociology, and anthropology, enabling students to develop a comprehensive perspective on individual and societal actions.

Graduates will be equipped for seamless transition to a four-year college or university, as well as entry-level opportunities in the area of social and behavioral sciences. Individuals can pursue careers in fields such as counseling, social work, human resources, and market research – anywhere a deep understanding of human behavior can bring value.

CAREER OPPORTUNITIES

- Human Services
- Research
- Education

PROGRAM OBJECTIVES

- Develop a solid grasp of fundamental principles, theories, and investigative approaches in the realm of behavioral sciences.
- Examine the ethical principles governing the behavioral sciences.
- Collect and compose academic research that summarizes the behavioral sciences literature, utilizing proper APA formatting.

WE ARE ACCREDITED.

Penn Highlands is accredited by the Middle States Commission on Higher Education. This means you will receive the same quality of education as major four-year institutions in our area.

WE ARE FAMILY.

Our supportive staff and faculty are here for you. We are available to listen, offer advice, and provide support to help you succeed. With an 18:1 student-to-faculty ratio, the hands-on support you will receive feels like family.

DISCOVER MORE ABOUT THIS PROGRAM.

